CLUB LE MONDE

RUNNING TIME 1h20 CERT 18

THERE'S a thoroughly enjoyable vibe to this sprawling ensemble movie, set on one night in an early-1990s London disco. It's the kind of place everyone wants to get in, but no one's quite sure why.

Fortunately, filmmaker Simon Rumley delights in subverting stereotypes. This keeps things lively and often very funny, and makes the film feel rather more substantial than an 80-minute night at the disco.

There's nothing terribly new here; it's just a bright, funny little film. But it's so astutely observed that you can't help but enjoy it. And there's a nice whiff of gay subtext too.
